IOWA IS HARD HIT

Refugees Seek Safety On Improvised Rafts

Fort Worth, Texas, April 26.—The revised death list of the Trinity River flood is forty six dead and many missing. The city is surrounded on three sides by a sheet of water which covers upwards of thirty square miles.

The flood waters are rapidly receding. Investigators are busy at work attempting to find proof that the levees were dynamited, but so far no such evidence have been found.

(Reuter's Service)

Dallas, Texas, April 27.—Forty-seven persons are dead or missing as a result of yesterday's floods here.

Wu Pei-fu's Marching Song

(Translated by Josef W. Hall)

I GIVE a rough but literal translation of a marching chant composed by General Wu on the foundation of an ancient battle song. The metrical form is faultless, being the ancient 9-7-5-5-4-4 play on synonyms. An insight into the little commander's psychology can perhaps be gained through this composition of his. Certain it is that one who has seen him, with his military band behind him, directing his officers and men in the chant which varies in content from historical allusions and international relations to the war cry of savagery, will never forget the sight. It is called:

The Ancesstral Land Enlightened!

1.—Recall Our Origin.

The Great Middle Kingdom boasts four thousand years.
Hsien Yuan founded it—
He invented the compass
And suppressed Chi Yu (mythical symbol of lawlessness)
In the dawn of enlightenment
My country was first.

2.—The Proclamation

Daily the strife increases
The tigers sharpen their teeth
(Chang Tso-lin's popular nickname is "The Tiger")
If I kill not men—
Will men therefore spare me?
Ten years I have studied my sword.
How about using it!

3.—The Country's Glory

Heaven impels me against the outside aggressor
A month—three communiques—I shall conquer.
(The Chinese historical expression equivalent to "I came, I saw I conquered.")
With a sword like the autumn rain
And a seven-starred blade
Shall I establish my nation in prestige
Encircling the continent.

4.—The Feelings of the People

Shall the God-enlightened Glorious endure foreign contumely?
Death to our oppressors!—Should I, too, die,
Let me enter the spirit Gates with fearless integrity
Not as a ghost which shrank at death
This has fate
Decreed to me, alone.

5.—Self-Sacrifice

Man may live one hundred years
Is it not pitiable if he lives as a reed or a tree?
Mu Lan (the Chinese Jeanne d'Arc) enlisted
Should I, a male, draw back?
For country I devote my body
Is it not my obligation?

6.—To War!

I, of strength, proclaim
I will eat bran, sleep under a tent—
Let loose the battle-lust
Pluck up my courage,
Should I be made captive,
I swear to return not alive.

7.—Attack

Blood-lust upon us, we advance by river and land.
Today the cause of the two forces are adjudged.
We charge through the bullet-rain
Our countenances change not by a hair.
Here is our opportunity for victory!
Beat the drums!

8.—Encircling

Cut off their supplies! Stop their retreat!
Break down the defenses! Take the city!
You are like a tiger in his lair?
I am a Feng Fu! (The Chinese Amazon who rid the land of tigers)
Stick the banner on high
Ten thousand years! (The Chinese "Banzai")

9.—The Triumph

Cover the smoke, suppress the spirit, in obedience to orders return.
Trumpets and drums shake the earth with their thunder.
Today, the victors—
Yesterday, the Battalion of Death!
The elders welcome
With three glasses of old wine.

10.—The Country's Army

The ancients said, Will may overcome Destiny.
A thousand of the same heart can fill in the sea
Japan has her "Society of Welded Spirits."
The West has its oaths of Blood and Iron.
Our oath is eternal, changeless.

Blaze Breaks Out In Barracks; Victims Cut Off

Malaga, April 26.—A fire broke out at 1 o'clock this morning in a building occupied by a number of government departments. The upper stories, in which subordinate officials were housed, were cut off and several families perished.

The fire brigade were powerless and it is feared that the conflagration may spread to the ground floor, where munitions for the African army are stored.

ALLIED NOTE TO SOVIETS AMOUNTS TO ULTIMATUM

Demands Payment Of War And Pre-War Debts

DEMANDS ANSWER

Indemnity Will Be Asked For Damage To Foreigners

(China Press Service)

London, April 26.—A dispatch from Genoa states that the Allied note which will be presented to the Russian delegates tomorrow will be practically an ultimatum demanding unequivocal replies to the following:

First, the payment of war debts;

Second, payment of pre-war debts;

Third, indemnity for all damages to foreigners;

Fourth, the restitution of confiscated property.

(Reuter's Service)

Genoa, April 26.—On account of the uncertainty produced by M. Poincare's speech, a definite plan is afoot to summon a meeting of the signatories of the Versailles Treaty with the object of analysing his statement and clearing the air. The meeting will probably be held next week.

(China Press Service)

Genoa, April 26.—The signatories of the Versailles treaty will hold an early meeting to obtain further information on the French attitude as indicated in Poincare's Bar-le-Duc speech and to decide the Allied action if Germany fails to meet the reparations obligations on May 31.

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 26.—The Genoa correspondent of the Daily Herald reports that five Russians, including the well known White propagandist, Boris Savinkoff, have been arrested.

(Reuter's Service)

Genoa, April 26.—It is authoratively denied that Mr. Lloyd George is returning home at the end of the week. On the contrary it is announced that the British Prime Minister will not leave Genoa before the essential work of the conference has been completed.

(Reuter's Service)

Genoa, April 26.—M. Skirmunt, the Polish Foreign Minister, has replied to M. Chicherin's letter stating that he does not admit the right of Russia to intervene in the relations between Poland and other states and declaring that Poland's participation in the conference on Russian affairs is not connected with the Treaty of Riga.

He denies that the latter bound Poland to assist in securing de jure recognition of the Soviet Government and points out that the signatories confined themselves to expressing the opinion that recognition of the Soviet Government would be advantageous to the reconstruction of Eastern Europe.

Belgian Premier Scoffs At Soviet

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, April 26.—Advices from Brussels state that the Belgian Premier, M. Theunis, who has returned from Genoa, declared to press representatives that the Genoa Conference showed a tendency to exceed its economic and financial character and to become political.

The reconstruction of Europe, he said, could be carried on independently of Russia if necessary: the success of the conference was not dependent therefore on the political decisions taken.

Dealing with the Russo-German treaty, M. Theunis said that its disclosure had the happy result of creating a united front amongst the Allies. A definite statement would be demanded from the Soviets, whose recognition could in any case not be contemplated immediately.

He emphasised that it would be unwise to exaggerate the importance of the differences of opinion among the Allies, and concluded by saying that the Genoa Conference would probably end satisfactorily.

Here's A Vacation Hint

THESE warm days inspire anticipations of vacation days at the sea shore, and here is a hint for whiling away the time after you get there. Take the knitting needles and some yarn along, and then, when you once get into the water you won't have to come out. Far better than knitting on the porch. And no mosquitos to nip annoyingly at your ankles.

Delay Of Traffic On S.N.R. Causes Disquieting Rumor

Owing to a "hot box" that occured to the engine of a goods train along the Shanghai-Nanking Railway south of Soochow, traffic along the line was unavoidably suspended for 12 hours. The engine was derailed.

Consequently much disquieting rumor resulted and it was freely reported that the train was held up by certain militarists.

The railway administration last night assured THE CHINA PRESS that the 9.30 express to Nanking this morning will run on the tick of the hour as usual.

ARMIES CONVERGE IN NORTH; CONCILIATORS FAIL; FIGHTING NEAR

Chang Tso-lin Arrives At Chunglianchen, Wu Pei-fu At Paotingfu; Concentrations Of Troops Continue, With Prospect Of Battle In Few Days

CHINESE FAVOR SETTLEMENT BY ARMS

All Classes Convinced That Patched Up Peace Would Only Prolong Uncertainty And Chaos At Peking; Mediators Still Trying To Find Way Out

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, April 27.—The arrivals of General Chang Tso-lin at Chungliangchen (25 miles east of Tientsin) and General Wu Pei-fu at Paotingfu, and the continued movements of troops to the front appear to bring hostilities closer.

Patrol encounters are reported on the Peking-Hankow and Tientsin-Pukow lines but a general engagement is still probably some days, or, perhaps, a week off.

Mediation, in which fresh groups are participating, continues, but up to the present there has been little prospect of success.

All classes of Chinese are now reconciled to the idea of the two factions settling their rivalries in the field, believing that a patched-up peace would only postpone the inevitable struggle.

AUTHORITIES HERE SEE NO NECESSITY TO FIRE ON NAVY

Passage By Woosung May Be Winked At By Forts

KIANGSU FEVERISH

Extensive Preparations Made In Nanking; Recruits 2,000

The Woosung Forts will not attempt to hamper the progress of the Chinese Navy when it steams out for Chinwangtao to assist Wu Pei-fu in striking the Fengtien forces from the rear, according to the concensus of military authorities in Shanghai. Two very plausible reasons were given by the local authorities for their attitude. One is that the forces guarding the forts has no obligatioin, despite their sympathy with the Fengtien clique, to conduct hostile operations against the navy, which is only passing the forts and not attacking them. The second reason is that the military authorities do not propose to start the offensive to precipitate a war round Shanghai whose foreign interest is too great to be left out of consideration.

General Yung Tao-yi, in command of the troops at Woosung, therefore, may well acquelsce in the movements of the Cruisers Hai Shou and Hai Yung and the Gunboats Tsing An and Chu Yue and ignore their departure to save himself and his colleagues from being accused of having precipitated a local combat.

PRECAUTIONS IN NANKING

The developments in Nanking however add more anxiety to the local authorities. Every precaution is being taken in Nanking. Martial law is apparently in force although no definite declaration has been made. About two thousand new troops have been recruited to fill up the gap in the sixth division caused by the despatch of the 21st brigade to Hsuchowfu. The recruits are most idle immigrants from Honan, Shantung and Chihli and are undergoing strenuous drilling daily. On the hand, General Lu Yung-hsiang's forces are pushing their way towards Quinsan and vicinity as a measure of precaution, it is currently reported. A split between Lu and the Civil Governor, Shen Chin-chien, is also reported by visitors to the Hangchow capital. It is alleged by Lu that Civil Governor Shen has come to an understanding with Tuchun Chi of Kiangsu to tie the hand of the Chekiang Tuchun in case of military operations.

Lu's indignation over Chi's partiality with Wu Pei-fu is quite pronounced. He maintains

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, April 22.—General Feng Yu-hsiang, prior to his departure from Sianfu on the 10th instant, issued a circular telegram explaining that he was taking two divisions and three mixed brigades to the support of Generals Tsao Kun and Wu Pei-fu whose positions were threatened by the arrival of large numbers of Fengtien troops in Chihli province.

(Eastern News Agency)

Tientsin, April 27.—According to reports from various Chinese sources, Li Ching-lin, Commander of the 3rd Column of the Fengtien troops, now at Chinghai, today sent an urgent telegram to Tientsin asking for the prompt despatch of provisions to Chinghai, for, as he asserts, "the time for fighting is imminent."

The distance between the vanguards of the two contending forces in this district is said to be only 10 miles. It is reported that the Fengtien troops, who captured 16 big-guns and 10,000 shells at Machang, are now in high spirits and are sure of victory.

(China Press Correspondence)

Peking, April 27.—President Hsu Shih-chang appealed to the Chinese nation declaring that China was on the verge of a civil war which would have foreign complications. He demanded that Chang Tso-lin and Wu Pei-fu withdraw their troops immediately and that mediators be sent to adjust their differences.

(Kuo Wen News Agency)

Peking, April 26.—The telegraphic wires between Paotingfu, where are located the headquarters of the Chihli faction, and Tientsin have been cut. A military telephone system has, however, been installed, but only military messages are being exchanged.

(Kuo Wen News Agency)

Peking, April 26.—Marshal Chang Tso-lin has postponed his visit to Peking.

General Sun Lieh-chun, Director of Operations for the Fengtien Army has arrived here but returned to Mukden following a secret visit to the Fengtien camps at Fengtai and Changsintien. He has intimated that definite orders have been issued by Marshal Chang Tso-lin that the Fengtien forces shall, under no circumstances, not open fire on the Chihlilites until the latter fire the first shot.

(Kuo Wen News Agency)

Peking, April 26.—The President, Hsu Shih-chang, has received letters from Premier Liang Shih-yi and Mr. Yeh Kung-cho, Minister of Communications, who are said to be responsible for the present crisis in the North, that they are willing to sacrifice their positions if that can help in bringing about peace.

President Hsu is said to have replied that this proposal will have to be brought before the three Inspector Generals, Chang Tso-lin, Wu Pei-fu and Tsao Kun, to decide.

(Kuo Wen News Agency)

Peking, April 25.—President Hsu Shih-chang was host at a dinner to the Diplomatic Corps again last night and explained to them the situation now existing between Fengtien and Chihli. It is learned from "reliable sources" that the Diplomatic Corps is organising a corps of 10,000 to use force in interfering with China's internal warfare.

(Eastern News Agency)

Peking, April 26.—Chou Tze-chih this afternoon issued a circular telegram to Tuchuns and Civil Governors of all local provinces, requesting them to despatch their respective representatives to Peking to discuss a fundamental policy regarding military, civil and financial affairs.

Liang Shih-yi yesterday also issued a circular telegram to various quarters concerned, urging the prompt amicable settlement of the situation for the sake of the welfare and happiness of the country and people of China.

(China Press Correspondence)

Paotingfu, April 26, (6:30).—Wu Pei-fu has just arrived here from Loyang and is in conference with Tsao Kun over certain strategic details which are expected to be settled so that the advance upon Chang Tso-lin's Manchurian bandits can be begun at once.

Woosung Forts To Let Navy Pass

that it was Chi himself who had suggested neutrality of Chekiang and Kiangsu in case of warfare, but it was Chi also to breach his promise and side with the Chihli faction. While Chekiang had taken the neutrality declaration in good faith, Kiangsu had not only declared war on Mukden but also completed its military plans against Chekiang whose territory interlocks that of Kiangsu.

NOT UNANIMOUS

The Shanghai navy's view over the present situation is by no means unanimous. While the Command-in-Chief, Admiral Tsian Tseng, has joined in the rhetorical combat against the "bandit monarchist" from Mukden, the commander of the first squadron to which all the Shanghai navy belongs, does not approve the idea and had tendered his resignation.

Admiral Tsiang's circular telegram reads as follows:

"The announced purpose of the entry of Fengtien forces within the Great Wall is said to be for the re-unification of the country. We shall for the present refrain from discussing the possible effect of such a move. But we are sure that the resolution passed by the Conference on Limitation of Armaments in Washington regarding the withdrawal of foreign troops from China has thus been made invalid. This fact alone gives us much pain.

"Moreover, the transportation of troops both hamper the free transaction of trade and cause restlessness among the pacific residents. Both the national status and the livelihood of people are effected.

"Up to the present, the retrocession of Mongolia has not yet been realised. Chang Tso-lin, as the High Mongolian Pacification Commissioner, should first reunify Manchuria and Mongolia before the question of national reunification, which should be discussed by Chinese of virture, repute and integrity, is brought up. This should be the natural order of things which would form the factors that would ultimately bring peace and amity among the different factions in the country.

"Otherwise, we are reluctantly compelled to refrain from endorsing the movement."

MEDIATORS' APPEAL

A joint telegram has been sent by Chang Shih-lan, Chow Erh-shuan, Wang Shih-chen, Wang Chan-yuan, Meng En-yuan and Chang Shao-tseng, special mediators appointed by Hsu Shih-chang, the Peking President, to effect a possible compromise between the warlords, have issued a circular telegram uttering the warning that the country cannot stand another war.

They suggest that the enlightened politicians of distinction and experience be gathered together in one big hall for the purpose of solving national problems in order to avoid precipitating China into a situation similar to that obtaining in Russia and Mexico, and in order to prevent the spread of the hardships which the people have suffered in warstricken provinces such as Yunnan, Kwangsi, Szechuen and Hunan.

Following the lead of Admiral Tsiang, Admiral Tu Sih-kwei, commander of the Yangtsze Fleet, yesterday endorsed the telegram of the Commander-in-chief of the Navy and offered to place his fleet at the disposal of Chihli.

Notes On The Situation

Despite the assurance of the government that the Peking-Mukden Railway would not be interrupted, exodus has begun on a large scale from Peking.

The 28 Mukden engineers working at the Hanyang Arsenal has been discharged by Yang Wen-kai, director of the Arsenal.

The same precuationary measures adopted during the Anfu-Chihli combat have been adopted by the Diplomatic Corps in Peking. Over 10,000 foreign troops are now stationed in Tientsin and its vicinity. When actual warfare begins, these will be distributed to protect foreign interests.

COTTON MARKET DULLNESS NOT TO ENDURE, BELIEF

Trade In America Chiefly Concerned With Weather

(Reuter's Service)

New York, March 31.—The cotton market has declined slightly this week. That it has failed to develop a severe break under the strike menace both here and in England would seem to indicate that the trade is deeply impressed with the imperative need of a good crop this season if a famine is to be averted. On no other grounds could the comparative steadiness of the market be explained for on top of the textile strike and the coal strike is the dullness in cotton goods circles.

This latter phase of the situation, however, has received a novel explanation from a member of the trade who takes the view that since the war the cotton goods line has been undergoing a revolution in the methods of doing business. His theory is that instead of the various agencies under the mills holding large stocks of goods, the retailer, the jobber and the distributor have adopted a hand-to-mouth policy of handling goods which involves purchasing only as they sell.

This for a time might show an apparent slackness in demand until present supplies are used up, but eventually would result in about the same consumption of goods as before. It was the idea of this merchant that such a development and not a buyers' strike, was responsibble for the present dullness in the cotton goods marker and that it would be only a temporary lull.

Two private crop reports have been issued this week, one of which forecasted an increase of only three percent in acreage while the other indicated an increase of ten percent. The trade is already paying close attention to weather news, although it is still early and most of the crop has not been planted. That interest is so intense thus early in the season is an indication of how apprehensive cotton people are this season over the crop outlook. The Secretary of the American Cotton Association says of the boll weevil menace that the South is confronted with one of the most serious problems it has been called upon to face for the last half-century. He finds that "the greatest number of boll weevils ever known have passed through the winter."

The farmer, he declares, is in a distressing financial condition, loaded with unpaid debts incurred on inflation for the production of the crops of 1920 and 1921. Thousands of mules have been sold from the various sections of the belt and practically no new mules have come into the cotton belt with'n the last two years. Thousands of negroes, he says, are leaving the farms and moving into towns and cities in other sections of the country. He pictures a very gloomy outlook for the South but it must be remembered that such has been the policy of members connected with this Association for several years past.

In the view of a Washington observer, if the New England textile strike continues for a considerable period, the scarcity of goods will lead to an advance in the price. Large orders will then be given for goods in anticipation of higher prices and raw cotton must be bought to cover orders for goods. He declares that there is a shortage of cotton for the period, April to September, and there is no escape.

If a wet June should follow the dry June of last year in Alabama and Georgia and to a less extent in the Carolinas a real cotton famine throughout the remainder of this year and next would be inevitable, he concludes.

A big American weekly periodical, devoted to farming interests, says that the time is in sight when American mills will be able to consume all the cotton grown in America, adding: "The time is rapidly approaching when the South will have difficulty in supplying the needs of the world. Our cotton planters have had their worries and their troubles, but if the world comes to enjoy a long period of peace, they may confidently look forward to an active market for their product."

That English cotton interests are also becoming alarmed over the question of future supplies is shown in interviews published here with prominent English manufacturers who admit that "a very much larger and a very much better American cotton crop is absolutely essential next season." They say that America will increase her acreage if it pays her to do so, but if there is no increase, "we shall head rapidly toward famine conditions which will mean higher prices than ever."

These are some of the straws which show how sentiment is being perceptibly drawn into bullish lines and how the trade is preparing for a very active speculative market this season unless the unexpected happens and abnormally fine weather gives promise of a good yield.

Memphis reports an increse in sales and says unless there is a decrease in the rate of sales buyers will find great difficulty in filling their orders. Eastern spinners are buying moderately in Memphis but Southern mills are taking considerable quantities and some increase is reported in demand from Great Britain.

Handling a play of unusual difficulty the A. D. C. added another to its long list of successful productions by its presentation of Galsworthy's "The Skin Game" at the Lyceum last night.

The play was produced by Mr. E. P. Graham-Barrow.

"The Skin Game" is of the classification in drama usually alluded to as "strong," rests heavily upon character delineation are required much of a cast throughout if it is not to lapse into a rather maudlin melodrama leaving a quinine taste at the climax. That the cast which presented the play last evening held its audience at every stage is eloquent tribute to both players and producer.

Controversy between two families with minor defections in the ranks of either and resort to methods not according to the higher code forms the basis of the story. A country gentleman sees his estate being cut up and disfigured by the encroachments of the holdings of a newly arisen industrial figure. The country gentleman's wife is particularly bitter over the prospect. The industrial figure, while inclined to compromise, by reason of a daughter-in-law, on a basis of social acceptance has a code of business ethics which continually disconcert his neighbors. In the battle for a piece of property vital both to the appearance of the country gentleman's home and the industrial figure's pottery business the latter has resort to unlimited funds and the former's wife to a hidden page in the career of her hated neighbor's daughter-in-law. Both are used to the full in the game for the property.

As the country gentleman's wife Mrs. H. York Irwine, with a tremendously difficult part to sustain, was never out of character for a moment and as the innocent victim of the squabble Mrs. Worcester, as the daughter-in-law referred to, was excellent and deserved the sincere meed of applause which the crowded house gave.

As the country gentleman Mr. Puddicombe carried the role through the length of the play with nicety and understanding which gave the character he portrayed the affection of his audience. His daughter, "Jill," played by Miss Catherine Maitland, was another outstanding factor in the show's success. She brought the proper piquancy and sympathetic impulsiveness of youth into the part required to give relief to the heavier trend of the plot.

The part of "Hornblower," the undesirable neighbor, calls for sustained irascible and strong emotional periods and in the handling of the character Mr. Kortright was admirable.

Another figure calling for special comment was that of "Dawker," portrayed by Mr. Lienard.

Other pleasing delineations, though of lesser prominence, were provided by Mrs. Rawson, Mr. McMurray, Mr. Weston, Mr. Schlobohm, Mrs. Bruce-Lockhart and Mr. Dexter. The play as a whole went off very smoothly, reflecting the hard work the cast has put upon it and the untiring efforts of the producer, Mr. Graham-Barrow.

"The Skin Game" is to be repeated Saturday night, for which performance the house is practically booked out, and will be given next Wednesday.

FRANK MCGRATH PIONEER LEATHER MAN PASSES AWAY

Manager Of Kwang Sang-li Tannery Succumbs To Seizure On Birthday

Mr. Frank A. McGrath, pioneer in the leather making industry in the Far East and the man who introduced American methods of tanning in China, died suddenly yesterday on his birthday.

Recently Mr. McGrath was confined to his home by an attack of illness that he regarded as more or less trivial, but he felt well enough on Wednesday to resume his duties as General Manager of the Kwong Sang-li Tannery on Wuchow Road. Shortly after his arrival there yesterday morning he complained of fatigue and taking a seat he apparently dozed off. It was discovered then that he was seriously ill as he became semi-conscious. As quickly as possible he was taken to the Shanghai General Hospital, but he was then beyond help. It was ascertained that his death was due to cerebreal hemorrhage.

Mr. McGrath has been living in Shanghai for the past three years, but he was well known in the general commercial world of the Far East. High integrity in all commercial affairs and a gentle courtesy that he practiced with all comers won him a host of friends who are made sad by his passing. He was seventy years of age and was a member of a prominent family of Salem, Massachusetts.

Among other of his activities Mr. McGrath established the first foreign tanneries in Honolulu, Bankok and Hongkong. Besides his widow and a daughter, Miss Frances McGrath, who are now on their way from America on the steamer Nanking and will arrive on May 18, he is survived by four sons. These are Mr. Frank R. McGrath of Shanghai, Mr. Edmund McGrath of Hongkong, who is now in Shanghai, Mr. William McGrath, who is in California, and Mr. John McGrath, who is in Salem.

Following a requiem mass to be said by the Rev. Father Croke S. J. at St. Joseph's Church this morning at 8:15 o'clock the funeral will be held from the Church at 4:15 this afternoon and the burial will take place at 5:30 o'clock at Bubbling Well Cemetery.

District Scoutmaster A. M. Scott Morris will inspect the troops before they move off, for which marks will be awarded for publication.

This is the last occasion on which District Scoutmaster Scott-Morris will parade with the troops before leaving for Swatow, where he will probably remain for three years.

May Sue Indorser And Drawer On Native Bank Checks

Banks or individuals holding checks which have been dishonored may sue the drawer of the check first, and also have the right of action against the indorser, according to a decision handed down by the Mixed Court Wednesday based on a previous decision of the Supreme Court of the Republic of China.

The point was raised and settled in a suit brought by the Asia Banking Corporation against King Yu-chang, who, on April 29, 1921, issued a native bank check on the Teh Yu Native Bank for Tls. 2,000 to A. O. Andersen and Company. Andersen and Company in turn deposited it to their credit with the Asia Banking Corporation. The check was dishonored when presented by them for payment. Fessenden and Holcomb represented the American bank and secured judgment for the amount and interest from American Assessor Tenney and Magistrate Yui.

S.V.C. Notes

"B" COMPANY, BRITISH

Parades. There will be no further drills or parades this season until the Inspection parade, which will take place some time in May, for details of which members are referred to the Corps Orders which will be published in the press.

Those men who have not yet been fitted with summer uniform are to apply at Headquarters at once for the necessary order on the tailor.

PORTUGUESE COMPANY

The Portuguese Co. spent the last week-end in camp at the Rifle Range. Rain marred what would otherwise have been a very succesful Camp.

Five officers and 95 N. C. O's and men were in camp from the evening of Thursday to the morning of Monday when they broke camp.

The company marched into camp, preceded by their own brass band.

The best was made of a rather wet camp, but in spite of the rain, guard mounting and sentry go were maintained throughout the four days.

A few junior officers and O. C. Units accepted the Company's Officers invitation to lunch on Saturday and Sunday.

On Sunday morning Mass was said in Camp by the Rev. Father Jacquinot de Besange, the Company's Chaplain, and on Sunday afternoon the Company was "at home" to their friends.

A very pleasant function took place on Sunday afternoon when the Consul-General for Portugal, Mr. Alfredo Casanova, officially inspected the Company and received the salute, he then in the presence of the whole Company and numerous guests present, decorated Capt. Diniz with the order of Chevalier of the Order of Avis, conferred upon him by his government for good services rendered in the Shanghai Volunteer Corps.

SHANGHAI SCOTTISH

At the close of the Training Season two further parades are required to finally qualify the Unit as Efficient.

One parade in the nature of a rehearsal parade for the Corps Inspection has been ordered for the Unit this afternoon on the Race Course at 6 p.m., to which all friends are cordially invited. It is intended to run through the various movements of ceremonial and company drills, also a movement of artillery formation to successive waves of infantry attacking at close quarters.

The final Field Exercise takes place on Sunday morning in the Western District when a very interesting tactical exercise will be carried out in conjunction with Field Artillery Battery which should prove highly instructive. The Battery has the services of several highly qualified observation officers who served with distinction as forward observation officers with the infantry during the War. In addition the Battery is utilising its Signal and Field Telegraph Section. Novel methods of intimating to the infantry that it has come under artillery fire will also be used.

These Members of the Shanghai Scottish Co., who have not as yet received instructions regarding Sunday's parade should put themselves in touch with their Section and Platoon Commanders at once.

Paris Puts Ban On Bolshevik Dancers

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, April 26.—The Government has created a sensation by banning all dancers, writers and actors who have had dealings with the Bolsheviks in Russia.

A case is exciting much attention in which London officials were instructed not to visa the passport of Mme. Olga Spessiva, the famous star of the Russian ballet, who was recently appearing in the West End and who is about to proceed to Paris for the grand opera season. The ballet director strenuously deny that Mme. Spessiva is pro-Bolshevik.

It is understood that the ballet will apply to Mme. Isador Duncan, who is ordinarily resident in Paris, but who is now visiting Russia.

SHANGHAI REDS AND BLUES PLAY GAME TOMORROW

The proposed baseball game between the Shanghai Club and the American School fell through yesterday by reason of several of the School's players being engaged in S.V.C. drill and in rehearsals for the School's forthcoming operatta. The players who showed on the field went through a few innings of a practice match by picked teams.

Week-end baseball will most likely find the club candidates split into two teams with strength divided off as nearly even as possible, playing as "Reds" and "Blues." There is no other team available for a match.

The proposal for the Reds-Blues game will give Captain Bills a good opportunity to see his men really working. In the two first games the whole list of players was worked in with the result that each man worked only a few innings. The game tomorrow between selected teams will give the season's first chance to watch all players in action throughout the nine inning period.

A return match will probably be arranged for Wednesday with the Schoolboys, and there is a prospect of a game with Hirsh's Nanyang nine for a week later. Should a Navy nine reach port before next weekend however the sailors will be given the Saturday date and Nanyang taken on for the following Sunday. Neither Nanyang or the American School will be available tomorrow as a large number of their players will be entered in the Harriers schoolboy race.

A promising recruit for the big nine showed out yesterday. He is Bruce, from Tientsin, who played last season with the 15th Infantry nine. Bruce has checked out of the Army and plans to locate in Shanghai. Should he remain here he will be a welcome candidate for a place on the team.

Bruce is an outfielder. The 15th Infantry baseball records show him as having participated in 14 games out of a season of 29. He ranked third on his team in batting with a percentage of .282, and fields .800. He was not with the Infantry nine here last year due to illness.

GOLF AT KIANGWAN

Waiting members will be allowed to play at Kiangwan on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 1, 2 and 3.

A Mixed Foursomes competition, conditions of which are 18 holes medal play, will take place on May 6 and 7. Entrance fee is $2 per pair and ladies' handicaps should be stated. There must be 12 entries.

HONGKONG LAWN BOWLS

At the annual general meeting of the Hongkong Lawnbowls Association the following officials were elected for 1922: J. Reid president, J. Mody vice president, W. Russell chairman, D. Gow auditor, C. J. Tacchi treasurer and secretary. The season opens May 20.

Many Records Fall At Hongkong Meet

The Hongkong University Sports were made the occasion of an afternoon of record breaking on Saturday. The marks surpassed were for the 100 Yds., Putting the Weight, High Jump, Pole Jump, Long Jump, Half-mile, 400 Yards, and Hurdles. Two of these were taken by a new arrival from Singapore, S. O. Shahabudin, his performance in the Long Jump being a particularly notable achievement.

S.C.C. TO MEET

The Shanghai Cricket Club will hold its annual general meeting on May 8 in the pavilion within the Race Course.

DELEGATES ARE ARRIVING FOR BIG CONFERENCE HERE

Groups Come From Szechuen And Manchuria For Church Gathering

Plans for the National Christian Conference are progressing rapidly and in spite of the disruption of the railroad service, delegates are coming in steadily. Groups from Szechuen and Manchuria have already arrived.

Plans for the Peking and Chihli delegations have been made whereby they will come by boat from Tientsin. According to the latest reports a good representation is expected from these sections. The program is almost completed.

The opening address will be made by Dr. C. Y. Cheng, who will endeavor to state what is expected from the Conference when it opens May 2.

Some of the other topics and speakers are as follows:

"Changes in the Environment of Christianity in China," Professor K. S. Lieu, Government Teachers' College, Nanking.

"The Strength and Weakness of the Church," Professor T. C. Chao, Soochow University.

On the evening of Wednesday, May 3, Mr. Peter Ch'uan and the Rev. M. T. Stauffer will give a stereoptical address on "The Progress of the Christian Church."

On May 4, in the morning, the Rev. T. T. Lew and the Rev. B. K. Evans, both of Peking University, will speak on "The Church of Christ in China." They will endeavor to show how the Church should be made indigenous.

Possibly the outstanding question before the Conference is the organisation of a National Christian Council in and through which the various denominations in China will endeavor to work. This subject will be introduced on Friday, May 5, by Mr. T. C. Koo, Secretary of the National Committee of the Y.M.C.A., and the Rev. C. G. Sparham of the London Missionary Society.

On the evening of the same day Mrs. H. C. Mei of Shanghai will speak on "Making the Home Christian."

On Tuesday, May 9, Mr. C. C. Nieh of Shanghai and Miss Agatha Harrisson of the National Committee of the Y.W.C.A., will speak on "The Application of Christianity to Changing Economic and Industrial Conditions."

The Rev. H. J. Hodgkins is to have charge of the Devotional Services during the entire Conference, and Dr. John R. Mott, Mr. J. H. Oldham, Secretary of the International Missionary Committee, and Mr. Fletcher S. Brockman will deliver addresses at the evening meetings.

The meetings are to be held in the Town Hall, and indications are that at least a thousand will be in attendance at the Conference.

Shanghai Hotels, Ltd., Meeting

The annual general meeting of the Shanghai Hotels, Ltd., was held yesterday afternoon at the offices, 14 Kiukiang Road.

Mr. Brodie A. Clarke occupied the chair and there were present also Messrs. Arthur Sopher, E. Nissim and Dr. E. L. Marsh, directors; Mr. E. Burrows, general manager; Mr. R. Basset, acting secretary; Mr. R. N. MacLeod, attorney for the company, and Mr Matthews, of Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews. There were present also a large number of shareholders. The chairman's speech follows:

"Gentlemen, in submitting the balance sheet and profit and loss account for the year ended December 31, 1921, together with the directors' twenty-seventh annual report on the state of the company's affairs, I will first read to you the auditors' certificate attached to the accounts, and their separate report referred to therein regarding certain investments and advances. The certificate is as follows:

"'We have obtained all the information and explanations we have required: we have issued a separate report to the shareholders regarding certain investments and advances. Subject to the foregoing, the above balance sheet is in our opinion properly drawn up so as to exhibit a true and correct view of the state of the company's affairs according to the best of our information and the explanations given us and as shown by the books.

(Signed) Lowe, Bingham & Mathews, Auditors.'

"Before referring to the subject of the company's investments, however, I propose first, with your permission, to make a brief survey of the business of the hotels for the period.

PROFIT $736,220

"Taking first the profit and loss account. The net profit for the year, including $21,935.13 brought forward from the last account, amounts to $736,220.80, or an increase of $31,570.28 over the previous year, during which, as you will probably recall, the company made in a special exchange transaction no less than $73,812.65, so that really the actual increase for the year amounts to about $105,000, which is all the more satisfactory in view of the growth in expenditure of $65,270 under the items interest and depreciation.

"The amount written off in respect to bad debts is again very small, the percentage compared with income being only one-quarter of one percent.

"The dividends on investments account shows an increase of $32,504.48, which is principally accounted for by the dividend received from The China Press for the year 1920.

"The balance of the working accounts transferred shows an increase of $137,840 over last year, which, in view of the generally admitted stagnant condition of trade in the Far East, is a very gratifying result. With the increased facilities of travel, and the consequent comparative ease with which passages are now obtainable, there has been a marked difference in the accommodation available at the hotels during recent months, and the congested state of affairs which had obtained until last year now no longer exists, and, after all, there must be some limit to the volume of business which we can expect our hotels to produce.

"Turning now to the balance sheet, you will note that our sundry creditors amount to $121,062.44, which is only $2,000 more than in 1920, and this notwithstanding the increase of $232,007.86 in our gross income.

REDUCE RESERVE ACCT.

"The properties reserve account has been reduced by $51,624.21, made up of depreciation of 5% on the Astor House Hotel building and the proportionate annual decrease in value of the Palace Hotel leasehold property, as recommended by the land agents when they made their valuation last year.

"Our overdraft with the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation shows an increase at the end of the year of $223,433.37, but, as I pointed out at the Extraordinary General Meeting held February last, stringent methods have been adopted to insure a complete reduction before the end of the current year, and I am pleased to be able to state that already it has been reduced by $244,264 which amount has been contributed solely out of revenue.

"Taking now the assets, you will observe that after allowing for the usual depreciations, the Palace Hotel property shows an increase of $32,903.43, which is due to the ten additional rooms provided out of the space formerly occupied by private dining rooms and banqueting hall. I may mention that these alterations have already justified themselves.

"The increase of approximately $30,000 in the Astor House Hotel property is also after allowing for depreciation and represents the new concrete pavilion and renewals of furniture, carpets, etc.

"A new item in the balance sheet is the Zaosan Road property, situated off the Hungjao Road, which was purchased with the idea of ensuring supplies of fresh salads, etc. grown under foreign supervision. The work on this garden is well in hand and there now is no reason why this long-felt requirement should not be established on an economical basis.

"The heavy increase in the sundry debtors account has really no connection with the hotels at all, the outstanding accounts for which it should be noted are actually $3,000 less than last year, notwithstanding the increase in gross income to which I have previously referred, but is comprised of various advances which I will refer to later when dealing with the question of investments.

"The increase in the new hotel expenses account is in respect to the balance of the payment of Gold $50,000 to the architects, Messrs. Warren and Wetmove, New York, for the plans of the new hotel.

INVESTMENTS

"To revert to the auditors' report to the shareholders in the matter of certain investments and advances:

"In the first place I would like to mention that these are matters which have given and are still giving the directors much anxiety, and, therefore, before offering any criticism I would ask you to bear in mind the exceptional circumstances with which we had to contend just prior to the conclusion of our financial year, when resulting upon the untimely death of Mr. Edward Ezra, our late Managing Director, we were suddenly confronted with various intricate problems of finance. As you are all well aware, the loss of so important a guiding hand in the administration of the company is one that will make itself felt for a long time to come, and while, no doubt, it would have been a comparatively easy matter for Mr. Ezra to adjust, having in mind his enormous financial influence, it is quite another question now that he is no longer with us. I can assure you that the directors have not for one moment under-rated the task before them, which, you will agree, is rendered all the more complicated in that we are now denied those financial facilities which the late Mr. Edward Ezra's name alone was sufficient to guarantee.

"It, however, must be admitted that the investments in question have not proved the success anticipated, and we must, therefore, contrive by every possible means to have these matters adjusted with as little loss as possible.

"With regard to financing and guaranteeing The China Motors, Ltd., the directors have been faced with the difficulty of determining to what extent it was necessary the company should continue its support in order to safeguard its interest, and it has now been decided to ask the other shareholders of The China Motors, Ltd. to contribute prorata to their holding.

TO CARRY BALANCE

"Notwithstanding the splendid results shown in the working of the hotels for the period, and the large profit available for distribution, the directors, taking into consideration the entire circumstances, and the fact that an interim dividend of nearly 50 percent was declared in June last, think the wisest course to adopt for the present would be to carry forward the balance of $475,120.80 to the new account, in the expectation that by the time the first half year's accounts are due we shall be in a far better position to discuss this subject again.

"In their printed report to the shareholders, you will observe that the directors have made no mention of the usual bonus to the staff: as customary, the directors took the opportunity at Chinese New Year of giving a bonus to the native staff, and I am sure that you will be quite willing to leave it to their discretion to recognise in a similar manner the conscientious efforts made by the members of the foreign staff.

"Before formally proposing the adoption of the report and accounts, I would invite any shareholder to take this opportunity of satisfying himself upon those points which I may have overlooked or which I may not have made quite clear."

QUESTIONS ASKED

Mr. A. Anderson asked what the directors' idea was in not publishing the auditor's account in full as customary. It put the shareholders to a lot of inconvenience as they had to send for a copy. The directors, he took it, were in accord with the auditors' report, as Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews were coming up for election again, and he had no doubt that they would be elected. In issuing the report separately the directors may have had a reason, and he desires to know that.

Mr. Matthews, of the firm of Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews, said that the responsibility for that was his. He did not like to have that report printed and published as anybody could get a copy. That report had to mention names and he did not wish that this should be done in the ordinary report. In this case it had nothing to do with the directors, as the suggestion was his. He though it the proper thing to do. He was sorry if it caused any shareholders any inconvenience.

Mr. Anderson further asked about the investments of the Company.

Mr. Brodie Clarke, the Chairman, gave the list of investments. These comprised: 6,000 China Press shares, 26 Telephones, 100 Shanghai Laundries, 1,127 China Motors and 3,524 Wagon-Lits Hotels. The China Press paid some $30,000 dividend in 1920, equal to 50 percent, the China Mutual Telephone $213,000, and the Wagon-Lits a return of 18 percent.

Mr. Anderson asked what the holding of the Shanghai Hotels was in the China Press.

The Chairman said the holding was 6,000 shares.

The chairman said that "forty-six hours of his time" were taken up every day since the death of Mr. Edward Ezra with the Shanghai Hotels and with the working of that company.

DID NOT CENSURE

Mr. Anderson said that in putting the questions to the directors he did not censure the directors.

The chairman replied that he was with Mr. Anderson in what he said.

Mr. A. Fischer asked what was the actual loss on the China Motors.

The chairman said that the China Motors showed a profit on December 31, 1921 of $58,688.84, that was after allowing for the balance brought forward from the previous year.

Mr. Fisher said that it was generally understood that the China Motors was in a bad way.

The chairman said that the accounts of the China Motors up till December 31, 1921 showed a loss of $9,000-odd and the profit shown was due to the balance brought forward March 31, 1921.

Mr. Fisher asked what the proportion of the holding of the Shanghai Hotels Company was in the China Motors.

The chairman said it was 1,217 shares out of a number of 2,000 issued, which was 60 percent.

Mr. Fisher said that it could then be left to the directors of the company to have their own auditors appointed for the China Motors. The chairman said they would have to wait till the account up till March 31 last was published.

Mr. Fisher asked whether the directors were trying to effect a sale of the China Motors.

The chairman replied that he had not heard of any plan. Unless something came along very tempting, he did not think they had any intention of selling the China Motors.

The chairman said he was obliged to the shareholders for coming that day and taking an interest in the business of the company. He appreciated their attendance.

Another shareholder asked who the auditor of the China Motors was and was told that Mr. Thompson was the auditor.

The report and accounts was passed with two dissentients, on the proposal of the Chairman, seconded by Dr. E. Marsh.

The appointment of Messrs. Sopher, E. Nissim and E. Burrows as directors was confirmed on the proposal of Dr. E. L. Marsh, seconded Mr. J. H. Parker.

Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews were elected auditors for the ensuing year on the proposal of Mr. J. Prentis, seconded by Mr. H. Ollerdersen.

A vote of thanks was accorded to the chairman.

Wine Crop Good, Berlin Is Happy

(China Press Service)

Berlin, April 26.—Most of the news reaching the German capital these days is gloomy, but one report has filled the heart of many a Berliner with joy. Last year's crop of Rhine wine is the best that has been produced for many generations. The price in Berlin restaurants will vary according to the quality, but will range from 200 to 600 marks a bottle.

According to latest exchange figures this would be from 60 cents to $1.90 a bottle.

The German Ambassador to Spain, Baron von Langwerth, has the unique distinction of being the proud possessor of a barrel of the best Rhine wine known to Germany's wine experts.

FORMER BEAUTY DEAD

At one time she was known as the most beautiful woman in Cleveland.

THE WEATHER NOW

Is Dangerous for Your Children. Baby's Own Tablets Safeguard Little Ones Against The Season's Maladies.

Sudden changes of temperature, damp heat, the chill which follows hot close days, all these things make Spring and Summer dangerous periods for children.

Your little one gets hot at play, then sits down and takes a chill; or kicks off the bed-covering at night and is attacked by colic; parents do not need to be told how tragic may be the consequences. It is because they are just the right remedy at such fateful times, gentle in action yet prompt in effect, that Baby's Own Tablets should always be kept ready in the home. Innumerable little lives have already been saved by their immediate use.

Guaranteed absolutely harmless to even the youngest infant, Baby's Own Tablets contain not an atom of "sleepy stuff" or other injurious drug, and are easily administered, being reducible to a powder in a moment and pleasant in taste. They dispel colic and constipation, reduce fever, check diarrhoea, allay teething pains, cure indigestion, expel worms, quiet the nerves and bring health-giving sleep in a natural way.

Druggists sell them, also post free 60 cents per vial, from Dr. William's Medicine Co., 96 Szechuen Road, Shanghai.

THROUGH TRAFFIC CONFERENCES AT RAILWAY BUREAU

New Baggage Checking System Devised; Other Reforms

(Chung Mei Service)

Peking, April 22.—The first of the series of Railway Through Traffic Conferences was held in the Ministry of Communications last week. At the opening meeting, held on the 11th inst., Mr. C. S. Lou, Director of the Railway Through Traffic Administration, briefly welcomed the members of the Conference and pointed out the remarkable progress made through the efforts and co-operation of those who took part in the previous conference.

He also referred to a Through Traffic arrangement made between the Chinese Government Railways and the Chinese Eastern Railway, which will enable passengers to purchase through tickets from any station on the Chinese Government Railway system to Harbin, Manchuli or any other station on the Chinese Eastern Railway.

The whole week was taken up with questions mainly concerning the working of the railways, but several resolutions were adopted which are of considerable interest to the public.

Probably owing to ignorance of the regulations, unused portions of tourist tickets without proper endorsement have often been presented for refund, and consequently time and labor have to be wasted in confirming the passengers' statements as to where they abandoned their journeys. Henceforth a notice will be printed on Return Tourist tickets to the effect that no claim for refund for unused portions will be recognised unless the endorsement of the stationmaster at the place where the journey is abandoned is obtained in accordance with the regulations.

Owing to the great variety in the forms of baggage carried on the railways and the impossibility of properly pasting paper labels on such articles as bedding, netted baskets, oilcloth bundles, etc. many cases have been reported of loss or misdelivery of baggage owing to the labels having been rubbed off. It has now been decided that for such baggage the railways should provide tag labels on which the ordinary baggage labels can be pasted.

Another resolution adopted was to issue Tourist tickets with Express Extra fares included. At present if the holder of a tourist ticket wishes to travel to Shanghai by the Tsing-Pu Express he has to take the trouble of buying an additional Express Extra ticket. In future he will have everything combined in one ticket.

Peitaiho residents and visitors will be interested to learn that return tourist tickets to Peitaiho Beach will be issued from May 1 to September 30, available for the return journey up to and including October 31, but after the closing of the branch line on October 5 such tickets will be available only from Peitaiho station on the main line. Although it had been the custom in former years to keep the Peitaiho Beach branch line open until the end of October it had been found that after the beginning of that month the maintenance of the branch railway is carried on at a tremendous loss.

Municipal Staff Changes

Changes in the municipal staff given in extracts from the order book for the week ending Saturday, April 22 are as follows:

Fire Brigade.—Probationary Sub-officer C. Winthrope is permitted to terminate his service on April 18.

Health Department.—Miss D. Rogalsky is engaged as a candidate for appointment as probationer nurse on six months trial from April 1.

The following are appointed nurses under agreement from April 15, terminable at three months' notice:

Miss J. Croasdell
Miss E. G. Jones
Miss M. A. Edge.

Mr. J. Lizerovitch is appointed inspector on probation from April 3.

Electricity Department.—Mr. J. G. Wilson is appointed collector on probation from April 3.

CHANGE IN BUREAU

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Peking, April 22.—A mandate issued last night announces acceptance of the resignation of Mr. Hsin Yen from his new appointment as Director of the Mongolian and Tibet Affairs Bureau and the appointment of Tawanpulichiala, Prince of Alashan, to succeed him. The change is understood to be due to the opposition of the Mongols to Mr. Hsin's appointment.

9 New Directors Elected By Local Chinese Taxpayers

These And Old Members Will Now Elect Advisors To Municipal Council

The results of the election for the nine directors of the Chinese Ratepayers Association have been announced. Seven hundred and twenty-three votes were cast during Monday and Tuesday, of these 171 ballots were adjudged invalid by the committee elected at the meeting of the Chinese ratepayers on Monday afternoon.

The names of the new directors and the number of votes secured by each follow:

Mr. Sun Han-chang, 380; Mr. Jabin Hsu, 222; Dr. C. T. Wang, 206; Mr. Chang Mo-chen, 179; Mr. Yuan Li-tung, 140; Mr. Wang Chai-yung, 140; Mr. Ching Chen-ching, 123; Mr. Fan Chiao-peh, 101 and Mr. Yu Yah-ching, 95.

Messrs. Chang Yi-ming, Tieu Shu-lin, Kam Chu-nam, Loh Wen-chung and Chang Ping-hsin were elected alternates.

The directors-elect together with the 13 directors already serving on the board will now meet at an early date and elect the five advisors to the Municipal Council for the ensuing year.

PROFESSOR TELLS OF CANNIBALISM IN FAMINE AREA

Says Bolshevik Authorities Are "Stragetically Retreating"

(Reuter's Service)

New York, March 31.—Graphic stories of starvation and cannibalism in Soviet Russia were brought back today by three men who arrived on steamers from Europe, after tours of the famine district.

Two, Simon Brallove of Washington, and Morris D. Barron of Brooklyn, who returned on the Polonia, and gone to Russia to rescue relatives who, they heard, were starving. The third was Professor M. Atkinson, head of the Department of Economics in Melbourne University, Australia, who entered Russia as a representative of the British Dominions Famine Relief. He was a passenger on the Mauretania.

Professor Atkinson declared he had established to his complete satisfaction that cannibalism was rampant in the Saratov district of Russia at least.

"No account of the horrible conditions in Bolshevik Russia can be as bad as the hell I have witnessed with my own eyes," Professor Atkinson added. "Along the road, thousands of bodies were lying, and I am not overstating it to say that 3,000,000 more will die of starvation, typhus, typhoid and cholera before summer comes.

"A cordon should be drawn around Russia by the medical authorities, for it is the menace of the world.

"Too much cannot be said for the work of the American Relief, who have a wonderful organisation, and are feeding 3,000,000 Russian children.

"As for the Bolshevik Government, it is surely breaking down, and its leaders are now living by strategic retreat. Industries are being allowed to begin again, and foreigners are returning to open their shops."

Professor Atkinson said he would go at once to Canada where he will deliver several lectures on what he has seen, before proceeding to Melbourne.

Dutch Oil Magnate Denies Socony Pact

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 26.—According to a telegram from Amsterdam, the Handelsblad's New York correspondent learns that Sir Henri Deterding, Director-General of the Royal Dutch Petroleum Company, denies the rumors of a friendly advance between the Royal Dutch and the Standard Oil Company. There is no question of the issue of a bond loan in the United States.

Sir Henri Deterding declares that the only object of his visit to America is to inspect the Company's new possessions there.

B. W. A. SECTION HEAR LECTURE ON 'OLD FURNITURE"

An interesting paper on "Old Furniture" was read before the British Women's Association Literary Department Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. Irwine, at whose home on Yu Yuen Road the meeting was held. During the course of her reading, Mrs. Irwine illustrated various points by showing pieces of furniture from her own splendid collection.

The periods discussed in Mrs. Irwine's paper covered what is known as the oak and walnut periods, the first, of which is divided into Gothic, Elizabethan and Jacobean. The furniture of these times was ecclesiastical in design.

The beds of the Tudor days, however, were of a luxuriance and elegance that are hardly to be reconciled with ideas of ecclesiastical asceticism. The oak bed, highly carved, was a completely curtained four poster. Ermine coverlets and costly canopy hangings, heavily embroidered, were quite the vogue.

Among the magnificent beds of the Middle Ages was the one used by James I which was ornamented with hangings of cloth of gold and gold vases atop the posts.

Mrs. Irwine traced the gradual change from the severe but magnificent "ecclesiastical" furniture through the English adoption in part of the Renaissance style, the change again with the coming of Cromwell who was opposed to all things beautiful because he thought they were sinful. The swing of the pendulum, however, in the inevitable reaction that followed his Spartan simplicity, brought a wild orgy of extravagance punctuated with such magnificent examples as the bed of James I.

The only change in the official quotations here today was a drop in the Rupee rate to 262½.

Our market, in the early part of the morning, was on the easy side, business in Sterling being done as low as 3-4⅞ for April and 3-4⅝ for May-June.

Gold Dollars were done at 75½ for April and 75⅝ for May-June. However, later in the morning rates steadied up somewhat, there being a few bills offering, and speculators inclined to sell rather than buy as had been the case earlier in the morning. In the Rupee rate to 266½.

In the afternoon, there were sellers, rather than buyers, at the above quotations, but there were good buyers at a fraction higher.

There was little doing in the London and New York silver markets yesterday, which are both reported as steady.

Hankow Market

The British Chamber of Commerce at Hankow write as follows in their weekly circular dated Hankow, April 19:

FINANCE

Bar silver dropped from 33½ ready and forward to 32¾d. ready 33⅜d. forward and recovered to 33⅝d. ready and forward. The official T.T. rate remained the same at 3s. 4d. but banks were keen sellers up to 3s. 5⅜d. with very little offering. 4 m-s. credits advanced from 3s. 5⅞d. to unwilling buyers at 3s. 6½d. A fair amount of paper came out on the 19th instant and the market closed very firm. New York-London cross rate went up from 441¼ to 442½ but dropped back to 441⅝. Market rates: Shanghai Taels advanced from 97.2875 to 97.4 and closed firm. Local currency $ dropped from 70.575 to 70.475. Native interest rose from 14½ percent to 13 percent.

EXPORTS

Some small purchases of wood oil, cow hides and gallnuts are reported otherwise there is little activity in the market. Both wood oil and cotton are weaker. There is no improvement in the demand from home markets and business in consequence remains very dull.

IMPORTS

Piece Goods:—The market is dull and practically no business is being done. There is no enquiry and clearances are very poor. The present bad state of the market may largely be attributed to the uncertainty of political conditions and we do not anticipate any improvement until the outlook is clearer.

Yarn:—Market is quiet and not so firm. Clearances fair.

KINGMAN & BROS.
How to Preserve the Teeth

In order to keep the teeth in a good condition scientific precaution must be taken. Through negligence, decay and numerous other affections such as tooth-ache, dental periostitis, esteo-periostitis, necrosis of the jaw, etc., may arise. During the process of ingestion, there are settled on the teeth some deposits of mineral and organic matters, called tartar, which possesses a morbid power of pressing the gum. As an inevitable result of the presence of this tartar, the teeth will become elongated and movable and will, by degrees, absorb away the enamel, leading ultimately to the decay and degeneration of the teeth. The tartar is so hard and resistant to the process of brushing that it cannot be scraped off except with dental instruments specially devised for that purpose.

Dr. KINGMAN offers to the public his service for preserving their teeth at an annual subscription Fee of $10.00 per head to be paid in advance.

The work to be done by Dr. KINGMAN to the subscribers consist in:—

(1) Cleaning of the teeth quarterly.
(2) Filling with gold platinum alloy only, when the teeth present holes.
(3) Inspecting the teeth at any time at the desire of the subscribers.

Exchange Market

Messrs. Maitland, Fearon and Brand write as follows in their exchange circular for week ending Wednesday:

Exchange:—Fluctuations in the price of bar silver in London have this week been more marked than usual. The price on the 20th suddenly rose to 3s. 5⅞d. per oz. an increase of 2¼d., but today it has receded to 3s. 4½d. and London reports the market quiet. Following the strength of silver our local rate for T.T. on London advanced to 3s. 5d., but was subsequently dropped to 3s. 4½d. at which rate it remains at the close of the market today, with sellers at 3s. 4⅞d.

In continuation of our remarks of last week the political situation is still having a very adverse effect upon business in general, and exchange transactions are being conducted upon a very limited scale.

Our stocks of silver are reported as follows:

Sycee and Bar silver Tls. 28,564,000, a decrease of Tls. 827,000.

Chinese and Mexican dollars $37,140,000, an increase of $570,000.

Estimated value Tls. 55,304,000 as against Tls. 66,214,000 held this time last year.

Has "The Tiger" Been Trapped?

BY JOSEF W. HALL

PAOTINGFU, Chihli, April 23. —One is not long in Paoting before a realisation of the futility of all attempts at solution of the Tsaowu-Chang rivalry by means otherwise than the appeal to arms, is thrust upon him. The attitude of the men who, under the nominal headship of old General Tsao Kun, are in actual control of the Chihli divisions, is one of the undisguised self-congratulation that the old Manchurian "Tiger" has at last been caught within their trap. There is not the slightest intention to let him out with a whole skin, and, indeed, the determination to take the risk of closing with him and finishing him for good now prevails.

The trap which has caught Chang Tso-lin has been set in part inadvertently by his Chiaotung, Anfu and monarchist allies, and in part deliberately by the Chihli chieftains. The former, with a view to the utilisation of Chang for their political resuscitation, the while Chang has endeavored to utilise them in the furtherance of his own ambitions, have held out to him the promise, now proved false, that his military invasion would immediately be followed by the rallying to his side of Shantung, Honan, Anhwei and Kiangsu provinces, and the consequent crushing of Wu Pei-fu without further military action than a troop movement within the walls through the Great Wall. The latter, through Civil Governor Tsao Jui, a pretended peace-maker, actually invited Chang to execute his movement Upon the arrival of Fengtien soldiers at Tientsin, Tsao Jui discreetly and significantly fled to Paoting, where he is living in his brother's palace under congratulations from Tsao and Wu for having played his part so successfully.

Nothing is more patent than the fact that, while the Wu party would have been glad to let Chang Tso-lin remain unmolested in his Manchurian-Mongolian kingdom, they are gladder, since he refused to remain there, to have what they believe to be the opportunity to eliminate him completely. Chang, who has been clever in the use of an army for everything but fighting, seems to have come to the showdown. Wu Pei-fu has at last got the issues out of the field of political intrigue onto the field of martial action, where he feels much more at home and Chang Tso-lin is the discomfited one.

The Chihli officers are not so fatuous as to believe that their work is completed without a fight. To trap a tiger is not to slay him or even conquer him. It is simply to get him within a restricted area where the work of despatch can be gone at with method and assurance, and with the possible necessity for hasty decision and action removed.

Method, assurance and deliberate preparation are the outstanding features of the Chihli military plan being executed under Generalissimo Wu Pei-fu. The cutting of the Tientsin-Pukow railway and the suspension of traffic on the Peking-Hankow line at Liuliho, where Wu's guns, trained on the track, could knock it to pieces in a moment's time, are his way of deliberate demarcation of the area which he permits Chang to occupy, and into which he can make rapid thrusts at the checked hordes of his enemy.

The Peking-Hankow line is not to become a scene of action unless Chang endeavors to break through along that route. When I passed through his outpost at Chang Hsin Tien this morning at one o'clock (as it harpened on the last train to come through) he had only two regiments there, according to the regimental commander in charge. Wu Pei-fu had only three or four at Liuliho, his outpost an hour down the line. Wu Pei-fu was well entrenched, in contrast to the Fengtienites who apparently regarded this defensive attitude of their enemy as excuse for neglecting like precaution.

At Chochow I found a strong outpost, something like a brigade, selected from Wu Pei-fu's best men. At Paoting, as I entered the ancient city wall at dawn, I passed three companies of the picked Fifteenth Mixed Brigade (Tsao Kun's bodyguard) in full trench kit—shovels, picks and a few trench machine-guns, filing out of the gates bound for the Liuliho line. But the strength of the Paoting garrison had gone down the line to Handan and Chengtingfu, thence over the new Red Cross roads by motor lorry and on foot to the Tientsin-Pukow line.

There, on the Shantung-Chihli border, operations are going to commence. Wu Pei-fu will not greatly delay. His overland movements show that he is impatient of the slow progress which can be made by the narrow-guage Belgian cross-line. Of these movements and the immanence of his Tientsinward drive I will know more after seeing General Wu. It appears, at this writing, that the attack now only awaits the passage through the defiles of Shensi of the remainder of Feng Yu-hsiang's troops, and the arrival within striking distance of the front, of a few more of Chang Fu-lai's veterans for Yochow and Hupeh.

Sun Yat-sen's rear attack, as Marshal Tsao told me yesterday, is out of the military reckoning. "He no longer constitutes a factor," was the language used. "If we make no effort to obstruct him, he will never get across the borders of Hupeh." In this judgment Tsao is relying on some good German military brains as well as those of his Chinese commanders. More of this interesting phase later, as I am only one station from Chengchow, and the inspector demands that I get out of the mail car where I have spent a comfortable night, before the inspection to which the train will be subjected at that station.

Correspondence

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS,

Dear Sir: For the sake of some delegates to the National Christian Conference who do not seem to be informed, I would call attention to a mistake that has been made in planning for the Conference of May 2, the limiting of the delegates as to subjects and opportunities for speech. In a conference the delegates expect to confer, and especially so in this democratic age. War may justify censorship, but it is not expected in a religious gathering.

The surprising thing, too, is that the mistake began over the most important matter. In discussing what should be brought forward as the Message of the Church to China, members of the committee naturally wished to include the work of Christ as the Redeemer, the living principle which has made Christianity what it is, the only world-wide religion. Others objected. After much discussion, it was decided to throw the responsibility on the Chinese. So Commission III was constituted of Chinese only, which was represented as a special honor. The program omits the Redeemer, and to the ends of the world it will be told that it was the Chinese who left him out, bringing on them an odium they do not deserve.

Aside from this particular issue, it is unwise to limit discussion unnecessarily. Report has it that no subject can be brought forward unless it is approved by two-thirds of the business committee, and that no one can speak to a subject unless he has given twenty-four hours notice beforehand. If that be the case the delegates will have their menu pretty well selected for them.

English Girl Has Cause To Be Hard

London Editor, Commenting On Mrs. Asquith's Statement In U. S., Declares Hard Conditions Must Be Met With Hard Front

Margot Asquith's visit to America caused her to gain a new perspective as to the relative positions of women in America and England.

Her declaration while in America that the "English girl is hard" brought about much discussion in the London papers.

Among the discussions arousing much interest is an analysis of the British girl, together with generous editorial advice to young women by James Douglas, famous London editor. His article said:

BY JAMES DOUGLAS

Editor of London Sunday Express

I see that Mrs. Asquith is reported as having told the New York reporters that the English girl is hard. If she is not hard she ought to be, for life is hard and man is harder, and the girl who is not harder than life in general and man in particular runs the risk of having her heart broken before she has had time to harden it. It is better to start life with a hard heart than with a soft heart, for the girl who begins with a soft heart is likely to end with a hard one, whereas the girl who begins with a hard heart may end with a soft one, if she is fortunate.

In the warfare of sex as it is waged in our semi-barbarous civilisation, man is the professional and woman is the amateur. Therefore, the girl ought to wear armor that is hard enough to protect her heart against treachery and treason. Her natural instincts and intuitions ought to be fortified by knowledge of the predatory habits of the wild beasts with whom she is destined to dance and dine. She ought to be taught the laws and customs of the jungle. She ought to realise that man is a ferocious animal who has not yet been tamed by education or ennobled by religion. She ought to understand that it is her supreme duty to tame him and to ennoble him.

THE EDGE OF EXPERIENCE

There is nothing in life that is lovelier than the girl who is blooming with all the wonder of youth in her eyes and with all the illusions of youth in her heart. She is trembling on the edge of experience, and a breath of evil is enough to plunge her into the abyss. There is a miraculous moment when she knows nothing, and then there is a still more miraculous moment when she knows everything. Nothing can save her from that shock of knowledge, for life never pities and never reprieves. Its mysterious purpose is inexorable. We must all read the riddle it propounds. We must all obey its behests.

It is not enough to tell or to teach a girl what are called the facts of life. They are meaningless without their key. Many men and women go through life without finding the lost key. They search for it in many strange places, and the search brings them lonely bitterness. And yet the key is easily found if the seeker will look for it in the right place, which is often the last place to be searched. The key is always hidden in the heart.

The girl can find the key to the facts of life in her own heart, and she can find it nowhere else. Not in pleasure, not in wealth, not in clothes, not in rank or station, and not even in art or literature or work. All these things are shows and shadows that are outside the secret kingdom of her heart. There are many desolate hearts which distill no solace out of them all. There are many hearts which are happy without any of them.

It is not easy to name the key that is hidden in the heart of every girl, for all our words are like our paper money. The exchanges of language have collapsed. But there is one word that supplies a clue to the lost key. It is a noble word that has not lost its nobility: Reverence. It is not possible to think of reverence in connection with anything base, or low, or corrupt, or vile. The girl who has learned the strength and wisdom and grace of reverence can face life with a hard and joyous heart.

I mean by reverence an attitude of mood or frame of the spirit towards its own inner marvels and miracles. The girl who looks into her own self sees a little universe that is more wonderful than the solar system. It is her own universe, and she reigns and rules over it. Nobody can break into its silent mysteries of thought and imagination. For this little universe she ought to nourish and cherish a profound and tender reverence. She ought to post sentinels on its frontiers. She ought to guard its gates. She ought to sound the alarm when she hears the stealthy footfall of evil outside its walls. She ought to harden her heart like a warrior.

This is reverence, the sternest and steeliest of all the virtues. The girl who reveres her own inner realm is a match for all her assailants and for all their stratagems. No man who lacks the magic and glamour of reverence can share the kingdom of her heart. He can cast no spells upon her senses. He can weave no enchantments about her mind. He is an alien and an enemy with whom she cannot parely, and he knows it.

Reverence begets reverence. The girl who is filled with reverence for her own inner self fills every man she meets with reverence for his own inner self. He is nobler and purer in her presence, and though he may go away sorrowful, he is the better for her heavenly hardness of heart. He may not be fit to be her mate, but her valor shames him and her relentlessness rallies his worship. He may writhe in remorse and hate her for a good hate, and he may learn to hate himself for hating her.

No girl can rate her heart too high, for the higher she rates it the higher is the price the man she loves will pay for his partnership in its riches. It is foolish to imagine that a man shirks hardship in the great quest of life. There is a Shackelton in every man that desires the lean bare adventure of struggle against the dark forces of nature in the wastes of the soul. It is the part of the girl to inspire the man by her hardness of heart so that he may emulate it.

AFTER THE HEART-BREAKING

Man loves power, but too often he pursues power over things rather than power over himself. The girl with the hard heart can teach him that the only power worth having is power over his own soul. There is no rivalry in this field of ambition. But when the girl with reverence mates with the man whose reverence vies with hers, there is something worthy of the name of love. The two hard hearts can fare forth together, and they can be broken together as all hearts ought to be broken, and after they have been utterly broken they can safely afford to be soft, for it is only upon the broken heart, as Shaw says, that there is a blessing.

I have stated the case for the hard-hearted girl. But well I know that nine girls out of ten will not harden their hearts until life hardens them, and then it is sometimes too late.

AGE is no indication of eye condition. Many aged people do not need to wear glasses, whereas many children need them at an early age.

Sometimes children, otherwise bright and intelligent, are backward in school on account of defective eyesight which is entirely unsuspected.

Let us test the eyes of your children. Be sure that you know whether or not their eyes are all right.

Unquestioned

BY S. E. KISER

She did not make him promise to be true,
Nor cause him to tell lies about his past;
She did not question, as most women do,
Who, after doubting, are convinced at last,
He never was compelled by her to swear
No other's lips had ever touched his own;
He did not have to say that he would care
Forever after that for her alone.

She did not make him ardently deny
The truth that would have caused her checks to burn;
His dozing conscience was untroubled by
A past to which he never could return;
The broken promises, the trust betrayed,
The aching hearts and shattered happiness—
There were no anxious questions to evade,
She never tried to coax him to confess.

How many men have put the truth to shame
And scared their souls because of questioning,
Compelled by love to play the devil's game
And making honor a forgotten thing!
Will women never learn, or is it pride
That causes them to ask and be deceived?
For truth is true, although it be denied,
And lies are lies, however well believed.

She did not ask him to declare that she,
And only she, had ever made him care;
She did not goad him to pretend that he
Considered her the fairest of the fair;
She did not make him promise to be true,
Nor cause him to tell lies about his past—
Because they merely met, their words were few;
She had no wish to hook and hold him fast.

About Science And Delusion

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS

(Eminent Astronomer and Authority on Subjects of Scientific Interest)

"What has science to say regarding mental telepathy; also spiritual revelation? Also advise as to the possibility of spiritual communication, with materialisation and photographic reproductions.—C. J. B."

Science has nothing to say on these subjects because it does not possess verified knowledge about them. Science is said to be organised knowledge, but that is a superficial definition, and ambiguous unless the word "knowledge" is first defined.

What seems to be knowledge to one person may appear as delusion to another. Verified knowledge is such as stands all tests applied in accordance with the normal experience of mankind when guided by healthy senses and a sane mind. Of courst, knowledge is only relative at the best. Metaphysical philosophers are able by continual hairsplitting to show that nobody knows anything at all. Inasmuch as their demonstration applies to themselves their conclusion may be disregarded.

As examples of verified knowledge which may properly be organised under the name of science, take the facts of physics, with the more simple of which everyday experience makes every one familiar; as, for instance, the daily rising and setting of the sun, the recurrence of the sensation of hunger and the ability of food to abate it, the inevitability of death, the process of reproduction and growth, both animal and vegetable; the properties and motions of air and water, the distinction between solids, liquids and gases or vapors, the changes of the seasons, the properties and construction of tools and machines, the transformations of chemistry, and so on.

Or take the field of mathematics. A person does not have to be a mathematician in the full sense of the word in order to feel that the results of any properly conducted mathematical calculation can be fully relied upon. The material world in which we live is so made that mathematics serves for a key to all its locks.

Of all of these things science is ever ready to speak, and, indeed, has everything to say, because universal human experience verifies their truth and soundness. Science finds that they are graspable and provable by its established methods of investigation. But even the least objectionable of the occult subjects that you mention—viz., telepathy—is not now, whatever it may become in the future, a thing that science can lay its hand upon and say: "I've got you, and now I am in a position to find out what you are."

The alleged facts are still too few, too uncertain, for science to form an opinion about them. They may be true facts, and back of them may lie a revelation of stupendous importance and interest (without any relation to spiritualism or spiritism), but at present telepathy is not sufficiently verified to be entitled to stand in the category of science.

It has not yet made a sufficiently powerful appeal to the leading minds of science to induce them to undertake an investigation of such a character that its results would be accepted by everybody as the laws of physics are accepted today.

As to "spiritual revelation" science is still less inclined to say anything at all. For me, I can only look upon alleged offered proofs of communications from the dead with amazement. Either they are saturated with delusion or else mankind in its highest moments has been living in a fools' paradise.

"The possibility of spiritual communication"—I do not believe that there is any such possibility. But mark this: My unbelief is based entirely on absence of proper and satisfactory proof, and not on any predetermined resolve not to believe. I will believe anything that is proved to the satisfaction of my judgment. But all the so-called "proofs" that I have yet seen are, to me, frivolous and worthless.

I do not deny that the pictures which these alleged spiritual revelations of the life beyond the grave present appears to me abhorrent beyond words; but nevertheless, I should not be induced by that sense of abhorrence to reject proofs which appeared to my understanding to be irrefutable.

I have witnessed so-called materialisations and have seen so-called photographs of spirits, but nothing of the kind that has come under my observation appeared to me to be genuinely what it was represented to be.

The China Import & Export Lumber Co., Ltd.

The twentieth annual general meeting of the shareholders of the China Import and Export Lumber Co., Ltd., was held at the offices of the General Managers, Messrs. Arnhold Bros. and Co. Ltd., No. 6 Kiukiang Road, yesterday at 3 p.m., Mr. C. H. Arnhold occupying the chair.

There were present Messrs. J. S. S. Cooper, C. L. Seitz and W. J. N. Dyer, directors and shareholders representing 3,470 shares.

A quorum being present the chairman proposed Mr. T. Cranston to act as Secretary of the meeting, and requested him to read the notice convening same. The notice having been read, the chairman said:

"Gentlemen: Before taking up the regular business for which this meeting has been called, your directors wish to record with deep regret the death of Mr. W. S. Jackson, who had served as a director of the company since 1910. His sound judgment and keen interest in trade development was of great value to the company and helped materially in building up the extensive operations of the company in China.

"The report and accounts for the financial year ending February 28, 1922 having been in your hands for some time, I will, with your permission, take them as read. Before proceeding with my report, however, I will request that the secretary read the auditor's report as printed on the balance sheet."

The secretary having read the auditor's report, the chairman continued:

"In presenting to you the profit and loss account and balance sheet for the past financial year, your directors consider you are to be congratulated that despite the difficulties of trade in China during 1921 a profit is shown of Tls. 304,358.48. After deducting the debit balance of Tls. 10,986.81 carried forward for the previous year, and directors' and auditor's fees of Tls. 2,750, there remains at credit the sum of Tls. 290,621.67.

"You will remember that at our annual general meeting, held on April 28 last year, a resolution was passed transferring Tls. 300,000 from our reserve fund for fluctuation in value of stocks to be written off lumber stock values as at March 1, 1921. This was necessary at the time in order to clear up losses in the liquidation of high priced stocks. As shown on the balance sheet, you will be pleased to observe that this sum has, during the course of the last year's working, been recovered.

Our stocks valued at Tls. 2,519,436.60, less this reserve in hand of Tls. 300,000, stand in the balance sheet at Tls. 2,219,436.60, as compared with stocks at the end of the previous financial year of Tls. 2,778,861.33.

"Despite this excellent showing, your directors regret that they cannot recommend the payment of a dividend.

RAILWAY DEBTS

"Owing to the failure of the Chinese Government railways to meet obligations due for materials supplied during 1920-21, we are carrying under Sundry Debtors accounts the large sum of Tls. 1,373,951.77. This results in our having to rely upon our bankers for unusually heavy support for the time being. The officials of the various railways are evidently doing all they can to make payments on account, and we are receiving remittances from time to time whenever funds become available.

"Everyone in China is familiar with the difficulties under which the railways have labored during the past year. Trunk lines such as the Tientsin-Pukow railway and the Kinhan railway were so damaged last summer in the heavy floods that traffic had to be suspended for prolonged periods. The cost of extensive repairs necessary was a heavy drain on the resources of the railways for the time being. In the Autumn when the lines were in working shape again political differences arose, which are now reported to be coming to a head in the possibility of civil war between the forces of Chang Tso-lin and Wu Pei-fu. Their military preparations have interfered with the movement of goods traffic on the railways, in that freight cars have been seized in great numbers and held for the transportation of troops, instead of being used profitably by the railways in carrying merchandise.

"An early solution of the problems at issue between the warring political parties is hoped for, and so soon as the railways resume normal working we can rest assured of payment of their liabilities.

"Meanwhile, and until the railways are in a position to meet their obligations, the policy of the company is to make sales to them only against cash.

"Apart from railway obligations as explained, all other accounts carried under Sundry Debtors are in excellent shape. Doubtful debts have all been written off.

TWO FIRES OCCURRED

"During November the company had the misfortune to have two fires, the losses in which were fully covered by insurance. In the first fire a storage shed at Tientsin, with contents of high-grade finishing lumber, was destroyed. It was possible to immediately replace the lumber, so that our operations there were not interfered with.

"At Shanghai we had the very great misfortune in the second fire of having our main sawmill totally destroyed. This mill had for some time been operating at a most satisfactory profit and the destruction of this plant greatly interfered with our operations. A temporary mill installation was put up, with the aid of which we have been able to maintain deliveries to regular customers, giving them reasonably satisfactory service.

"Plans and specifications have been drawn up and contracts placed for a new sawmill to be erected during the current year. The building will be all steel and reinforced concrete. Provision is being made for a sprinkler installation, so that the new mill will be fireproof. While the cost of such an installation is more expensive than the customary type of wooden sawmill, it is felt by your directors that the expense of putting in permanent plant, built to modern fireproof designs, is warranted, because the company's business is such that dislocation of operations by fire in its plant has most serious consequences.

"Our buildings, general and boating equipment, etc., are all in first-class condition, up-keep and maintenance having been charged to current working account.

"This, gentlemen, is all I have to say regarding the accounts. I shall now be pleased to answer questions which any shareholder may desire to ask."

The following resolutions were then put to the meeting and passed:

Proposed by Mr. C. H. Arnhold, seconded by Mr. W. J. N. Dyer.—"That the report and accounts as presented be passed, and that the balance at credit of profit and loss account of Tls. 290,621.67 be carried forward to the financial year 1922."

Proposed by Mr. C. L. Seitz, seconded by Mr. J. S. S. Cooper.—"That the appointment of Mr. C. H. Arnhold as a director of the company is confirmed."

Proposed by Mr. Evensen, seconded by Mr. Han Yung-keng.—"That Messrs. Lowe, Bingham and Matthews be elected auditors for the ensuing year at a remuneration of Tls. 750.00."

London Visited By Disastrous Blaze

(Reuter's Service)

London, April 26.—Forty fire brigades fought a fire in a petrol distillery at Hackney today. Lorries were requisitioned to throw tons of sand on the blazing oil as it shot up. The occupants of neighboring houses and factories were evacuated.

The fire was eventually got under control but only after a stillhouse had been gutted. Fifty tanks, each of five thousand gallons, within the works, escaped.
